FROM TEXAS.

LAMARCO, TEX., Mar. 17, 1901.

Editor of the News:
Thinking perhaps a few notes from Texas would be of some interest to the News' readers, I offer the following:

Last year was the most prosperous one ever experienced by the oldest settlers. Many returns relative enough from their crops to purchase them small farms, hence many of the renters of former days, are now land owners.

Business of every description from the tamala stand to the wholesale establishments are doing a thriving business.

The banks of Fannin county have on deposit, subject to check, three million dollars which belong principally to the farmers of this county.

The advanced prices of farm products have given renewed aspirations to many who were loath to remain on the farm.

Wages have advanced about fifty per cent. and laborers are very scarce.

Several families from Adair and adjoining counties have come to this country within the last few months. We had a royal welcome to all who will make and abide with us.

We, too, are in favor of the Adair County Reunion next summer. To return to the land of our boyhood days and revisit the many scenes of youth, to gather with many friends and associates of former days; to refresh ourselves once more in the mountain air and quench our thirst from the sparkling rills as they gush forth from nature's shrine; and to hold at Columbia an "old time" experience meeting, relating the many incidents of our lives in various climes, would afford much pleasure as the power of language is inadequate to express.

Very respectfully,
W. F. KERTOS.

ESTO.

Candidates are as numerous as the leaves of the forest.

We are having some nice weather, and the farmers are getting along fairly well with their work.

Messrs. W. A. Helm and Orva Barger have just returned from Louisville where they purchased their spring supply of goods.

Mrs. J. H. Barger is very sick at this writing.

Married, March 14, Miss Minnie Helm, to Mr. Oros Holt, Rev. M. Autle officiating.

School closed here March 15 and normal will begin April 15.

Mr. Ed Richards, who resides near here, has recently had a chance for the small-pox and is now shut up in an unoccupied house, under a hundred dollar bond, awaiting further developments.

Married in New York.

Robert Burns Wilson, "the poet of the Blue-Grass" and Miss Anne, the eldest daughter of Ex-Attorney General Hendricks, formerly of Kentucky, were married under peculiar circumstances at the bride's home in New York.

Mr. Burns called on the young lady at her home and was entertained in a room adjoining one in which his sister was entertaining a young minister.

While Miss Anne's sister and the minister were talking they were startled by the appearance at the poor of the room in which they were, of two excited individuals who immediately announced that they had determined to marry at once and it was proposed that the young minister perform the ceremony then and there.

The excited couple were Miss Anne and Mr. Wilson, and as they were thoroughly in earnest, it was concluded to have the ceremony performed at once.

The minister was of an accommodating nature and a few minutes later Miss Anne Hendricks became Mrs. Robert Burns Wilson.

The news now has the most complete assortment of stationery, job material and all the goods that we can place upon you if you need any thing in our line.

Story of Mosby, the Raider.

R. T. Hagleton, a Texas farmer who, during the civil war, served in General Wade Hampton's cavalry, said regarding the request of Baron Roth von Masow to the survey of those who fought under the command of Colonel John S. Mosby.

"It is probable that from Colonel Mosby's commencement in the Piedmont region of Virginia to his last battle, in which, in April, 1865, he defeated Maj. R. R. Lee, he commanded a mounted regiment, commonly known as the 'Mosses,' composed of men, or a part of men, from all the various brigades of Gen. Lee's army, many of whom served with Mosby on a single raid and were never with him, but he secured a mount and returned to their respective regiments. It was the practice of Gen. Stuart and other leaders of horsemen to send their horse-owners of poorly mounted troops to Mosby and that wonderful partisan fighter would soon give the soldier an opportunity to secure for himself a good cavalry horse from the corral of General Pleasanton, General Sheridan, or some other Union commander. One of Colonel Mosby's battles was fought by conventional means from a Confederate horse located in the western portion of Loudoun county, Va. Having twice reported to Mosby for duty, with the understanding that I would return to my own regiment after getting a horse and having talked to that famous guerilla leader after the war, I feel confident that he would be unable to designate his men at this late day; that is, if a few days served with him, a man to be called on Mosby's riders. In his biography and war record, Colonel Mosby mentions a number of men who were with him in most of his dashes on the Federal lines. Twelve Mosby was surrounded and his entire command with two exceptions was slain or captured. Mosby himself was taken captive during the war and was many times wounded.

"He did not fight under the black flag, as has been stated, but fought regularly as a soldier under General Robert E. Lee, with large commissions as to his own rank. In all of his operations he wore his gray Confederate uniform with the insignia of his rank on the collar of the coat. He surrendered to General Hancock after hearing of the surrender of General Lee and shortly afterwards took command with General Grant, with whom Mosby was a great favorite. Once when marching on a reconnaissance in the vicinity of Washington, Mosby, from his pocket took a sharp-pointed whip which cut off a leg of his horse, which he handed to a lady who was giving him a ride, and he then went on his way, the commander of the Mosby, to President Lincoln. The President, whose was a friend of Mosby's great friend, enjoyed the joke heartily and put the memento in a drawer of his desk, a young man, observing that, he hoped some day he would get the balance of Mosby's whip, and he then went on his way.

From The Vindicator, Rutherfordton, N. C. The editor of the Vindicator has had occasion to test the efficacy of Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice with the most remarkable results in each case. First, with rheumatism in the shoulder with which he suffered excruciating pain for ten days, which was relieved with two applications of Pain Balm, rubbing the parts affected and realizing instant benefit and entire relief in a short time. Second, in rheumatism in the thigh joint, almost prostrating him with severe pain, which was relieved by two applications, rubbing with the liniment on retiring at night and getting up free from pain. For sale by M. Cravens.

The President will leave for the Pacific coast the latter part of April or early in May. He will be gone five or six weeks.

"It was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes E. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H., "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also helped my wife in excellent health for many years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak run-down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Why the Governor Mended the Road.

The new Governor of Missouri is Mr. Alexander M. Donnelly. For many years a prominent figure in Congress, Governor Donnelly is a politician who frequently practices what he preaches. He preaches the doctrine of complete citizenship. He believes that a man should serve on a jury when called upon to do so, that he should pay taxes fairly and faithfully, and that he should vote as regularly and frequently as the law allows. He then speaks of some of these ideas of his constituents in Gallatin, Missouri, where upon the occasion, regarding his Congressman somewhat familiarly, said:

"That's all right for you to talk in that way, Aleck, but what if you were asked to work out your political tax on the road, as many men do out here?"

"I won't wait to be asked," the coming Governor exclaimed. "I'll do it anyhow."

And, sure enough, it wasn't long until Mr. Donnelly, with steeves pulled up, was busy in the clay in support of his notions of good citizenship.

Your Town Paper.

A newspaper in a town may expend all of its efforts, its time, its space and interest in the attempt to update the town, but unless its efforts are backed up by the business men of the town its work may be counted as well as high useless. When a stranger picks up your town paper he will glance for a moment over your news columns and then turn to the advertising page. If he finds its column bare, he sets it down that there is either nothing in your town or that its citizens do not appreciate the efforts of the paper and that they are just as liable to not appreciate his own efforts were he to locate there. You never saw a town yet that amounted to a bill of beans without the assistance of a newspaper. This being a fact we would also remind you that a newspaper cannot live without the assistance of the town. The poorer business men find out that in supporting their local paper they are also building up their own business, the better for both the business man and the newspaper and the town.

In supporting your town paper you are also assisting your town as a business center and your newspaper as a business enterprise and a medium to the outside world, but your own business as well. It is as much the duty of the business man to support his town paper as it is for the town paper to support and expand the interests of his town.—New Leader.

The plan of having Rear Admiral Sampson's profile on the medals that are to be prepared by the Navy Department, in accordance with an act of Congress, for presentation to the men who participated in the battle of Santiago, has, it is thought, been headed off. The storm raised by the announcement of the plan frightened its authors.

The deadlock of the powers, in Peking, on the question of the amount of indemnity that shall be demanded of China, is causing the administration to realize that it has been placing too much confidence in Li Hung Chang, that crookedest of all Chinamen. Commissioner Rockhill has asked for new instructions and the administration is in a quandary as to what to say to him.

The Louisville Dispatch, is no more. Last week it ceased publication and an order will be made in the near future to sell all the machinery. It was brought into existence at a time and under circumstances that warranted the opinion that it would flourish and become a powerful journal, a true advocate of Democratic principles; but from the very start its management mistook its real purpose and mission and turned its energies loose on the Courier-Journal instead of the common enemy. It died in shame, poverty and infamy—the logical result of treachery. We have no tears to shed.

GREENSBURG.

W. T. Hawkins, Deputy Collector, and posse destroyed three distilleries in Green county last Monday night. Two of the houses were quite large and there were evidence of recent operation.

Albert Allen, who lived in the eastern portion of the county, and who left his wife and five children several months ago, taking a Miss Magaha with him, has been heard from. He is in Clay County, Tennessee, and is living with Miss Magaha as his wife. Allen is a hard-shell Baptist preacher, and was frequently in the pulpit before leaving this county.

We publish the names of our paid subscribers each week, for the reason it is a receipt to ones who pay, and furthermore, it furnishes our advertisers with the class of people who are supporting the paper. It may look like occupying space for a little purpose, but many people like it, and we know it has been a great advantage to us. In to-day's paper about fifty names appear.

It is now time for the stockmen to advertise their stock. In our judgment the newspaper that reaches the people is the very best medium. Bills do but little towards advertising, as they are rarely ever seen but a few miles from home; their purpose in the main is to set forth terms. The News, read by 5,000 people every week, is ready to tell the story. If you have good stock, worthy and desirable advertise in this paper.

The pool table, which was recently purchased by the Billiard Club of this place, reached Columbia last Friday afternoon and is now in operation. It is a splendid table, handsomely finished, and will afford a great deal of amusement. The club comprises eight or ten of our best citizens, who will see that the rules governing it are strictly carried out. The only difference between the game and marbles is, pool is more scientific.

NEW SPRING STOCK.

OUR SPRING STOCK IS OPEN FOR YOUR INSPECTION, AND WE CORDIALLY INVITE YOU TO CALL and see it. We have invested more money in goods this Spring than in any former season since we have been in the business. We have learned that we can't sell goods unless we have them, and as our business has been largely increasing for several years, we have determined to show a "record breaker" stock this season, a stock out of which we can please all kinds and conditions from the best to the cheapest articles.

OUR STOCK OF LADIES' DRESS GOODS AND TRIMMINGS

is immense and complete and we are showing all the latest weaves and textures, both in Woolens and wash fabrics. MRS. MURRELL, who has charge of this department, has given much study and thought to the selection of this stock. We have all the new style trimming to match everything. In Ladies' Notions and Furnishings we have everything new on the market. Our stock of Ladies' Fine Kid and Patent Leather Shoes will make a favorable show with any department city store. These goods we only buy from the best manufacturers in the country, thereby saving our customers the "middle man's" profit and furnishing you the best style and service in shoes that can be procured. In men's shoes, we have them from Thos. Emerson Sons', Helmers, Bettman & Co., and other reliable manufacturers from the best to the cheapest. We have a large stock of CLOTHING AND HATS.

Men's Youths and Boys Clothing, Odd Pants, Coats and Vests—new and stylish. Our stock in this department is too large and we are anxious to quote you low prices to reduce it. HATS.—In our Hat Department can be found all styles and qualities that will please all from the "solid farmer" to the fastidious "Cigarette Dude" both in fur goods and straws.

GENT'S FURNISHINGS.

In this department we know we excel our competitors in this, or any town near us. You never saw a better line of Shirts, Neckwear, Collars and Cuffs, Hosiery, Underwear, etc., than we can show you.

FURNITURE, CARPETS, ETC.

We have added this season, Parlor suits (in 3 and 5 piece sets) upholstered with fine silk Brocade and silk Damask, couches and folding lounges covered with Persian velour, French tapestry, etc. Folding Beds, Rocking Chairs, Dining Room Chairs, Parlor tables, etc. We invite you to inspect this line believing we can give you better than city prices. CARPETS.—We have put in stock 25 new pieces Japanese Matting—styles and prices will please you. Brussels Carpets, all wool and extra super Ingrains, Oil cloths, Rugs, etc. We can save you money on Hardware, Queensware, Groceries and in fact every thing sold in a first-class department store. Glad to show you goods at anytime.

H. T. HAZEL.

The whereabouts of Geo. Milam, the colored boy who made his escape from this place two weeks ago, remains a mystery. It is to be hoped that it is deep and lasting.

For Embezzlement.

Last Wednesday a man (and woman) reached the Marum Hotel, this city, and registered as J. W. Jones and wife. They engaged a room and gave the proprietor to understand that they would be here several days. The next morning the general manager indicated that he was a post-office inspector.

In fact he informed Mr. Marum that he wanted to go to Burdick, in Taylor County, stating that there were irregularities in the mails between Columbia and Campbellsville. He was to have taken the noon back Friday for Burdick, but a storm came up and he deferred the trip. About 5 o'clock that afternoon Mr. Marum was called to the telephone and asked if there was such a man, giving Jones' description, stopping at his hotel. He answered in the affirmative, and was told by Mr. Heizer, the town Marshal of Campbellsville, to keep him, and he would be over at once for him.

The town Marshal reached here about twelve o'clock that night and the arrest was made.

Further developments proved that the man's real name is W. I. Fogle; that his home is in Oceola, Clark County, Iowa, and that he had left that country for selling mortgage property. He was arrested in Campbellsville ten days ago upon the same charge but was released upon a writ of habeas corpus.

Mr. Fogle claims that he will be released upon reaching Iowa, but his wife is not so sanguine. Furthermore, Mr. Fogle's actions at the hotel here indicated that he was not feeling free and easy. Upon his arrival he asked Mr. Marum if a great many traveling men did not stop with him, and upon receiving an affirmative answer, he stated that himself and wife desired to be quiet, and asked to not be called to their meals until the company had retired from the table.

Money Found.

A man named White, claiming to be from Russell County, was at Neil, Adair County, last Sunday, one week from yesterday. He informed Mr. S. R. W. Walker that he had just a lot of money close to his store. But little attention was paid to his story, but on Thursday following Mr. Walker was out in his field canvassing a plowman, having several hands with him. They found near where they were at work a considerable sum of money, scattered close upon the ground. It is now located in Mr. Walker's safe, and the owner can have it by describing the same and paying for this notice. Mr. White was arrested and a perfect stranger in the neighborhood.

Mr. W. F. Jones and Mrs. J. E. McFarland were married in Paducah, Ky., last Wednesday. The contracting parties are well-known here and are first cousins. Mrs. McFarland was visiting relatives in Illinois when the union was agreed upon. They came to Kentucky for the ceremony, the laws of Illinois not mandating the marriage of cousins.

W. L. Grady's fine stock will be advertised next week.

We are requested to state that the billiard and pool table was purchased for the use of its owners. When the club wants company invitations will be extended.

When you take into consideration the competition the merchants of Columbia have, the large business they do is astonishing. There are seventy-three stores in Adair County, sixty of them outside of Columbia.

The remains of Mr. Geo. R. Young's son, who died at Anchorage last Fall, will be brought to Adair County for re-interment. A brother of the deceased and Mr. Porter Barger left for the remains yesterday.

We are informed that Frances Jackson, wife of Prof. P. H. Jackson, of this town, has over 100 young chickens hatched and more still hatching and all this accomplished without an incubator.

Miss Estelle Cartwright, of Junction City, and Miss Lydia Simpson, of Breeding, were visiting in Columbia last week. On Thursday evening Miss Carrie Hatcher entertained a number of young people in honor of the fair young ladies.

Quite a number of young ladies and gentlemen assembled at the residence of Mr. Solomon McKimley last Sunday and were entertained by Mr. J. W. Hutchings and his photograph. A sumptuous dinner was spread, and the day very enjoyably spent.

Miss Sallie Patterson, of Jamestown, will entertain her young friends in the parlors of the Patterson Hotel this evening. Quite a number of the little Misses of this place received invitations, and Katie Murrell and Nina Marum will be in attendance.

The store of Lefe Sanders, Taylor County, was entered by thieves last Saturday night and a quantity of goods taken. Mr. Sanders was here Sunday, looking for his goods. He thinks the robbers live in the neighborhood of the store.

Miss Bettie Barbee entertained several of her young friends a few nights ago. There were music and games and the evening very much enjoyed. Miss Bettie is a popular young lady, and every effort was made to make her friends pass a pleasant and enjoyable evening.

The Columbia Stave Company have sold all staves they have on their various yards to the firm represented by Mr. J. W. Hutchings, who has been in Columbia for the past six weeks. The staves are being shipped daily to Campbellsville. The Columbia Company will continue in the business and will have more staves for the market as soon as the timber can be cut and bucked.

During a high tide in Cumberland river, two weeks ago, a great many logs were rafted from Russell County to Nashville. For several days the raftmen have been reaching Columbia, enroute home. They come by rail to Glasgow and walk from there home.

Prof. Ballard informed us that he had enrolled 100 students and that the average daily attendance is over 80. The old school is going a lively gait but this is due to its management. Prof. Ballard and wife are doing a good work.

Business has not been particularly brisk in Columbia for several weeks for the reason that farmers are making preparations for putting in their spring crops. Our merchants are making no complaint, knowing that the farmer is the bone and sinew of the land.

Remember that the Connecticut Mutual is an annual dividend company, hence if you want life insurance you should take out a risk in the company that gives you the best return for your money. For information concerning this company and all other companies, call at The Adair County News office.

Mr. Frank Judd, who lived in the suburbs of Columbia, notified his wife and mother-in-law, Mrs. Vaughan, that he had found a nice location in Illinois, and they left for the point he designated last week. Frank is a good worker and has a nice family, and we hope that he will do well at his new home.

Cane Valley and Gradyville are running neck and neck for the second place in point of size in Adair county. Substantial buildings have recently been erected in both of these towns, and the spirit of improvement is not abating. Both places are populated with excellent people who are determined to push their respective villages to the front.

A few nights ago Mr. John B. Watson, who is selling good salt from Point, heard some one near his store. He went out and observed a man acting very suspiciously. Mr. Watson started toward him and the man ran. He was called to stop and falling Mr. Watson shot at him. The man hurriedly made his way to the river, jumped in and swam to the opposite bank.

Miss Maggie Robertson gave a party last Friday night to a number of her young friends, and a gay set of little Misses were seldom seen together. The following were present: Misses Alice Walker, Lina Rosenfield, Cary Hughes, Bettie Hancock, Carrie and Nancy Flowers, Maggie Todd, Katie Murrell, Nina Marum, Fannie Jones, Minnie Hudson, Virgie Huns and Anne Robertson. Misses Fannie Garret, Mrs. Staples and Mrs. Bob. Hudson supervised the making of the party.

It is reported here that young Webb, of Russell county, who was afflicted with small-pox, has about recovered, and that there are no other cases in the county. A report gained circulation that Webb lived at Kimble, which was a mistake. His home is six miles from that place, and there has been no small-pox at Kimble at any time. The people at that place are generally healthy and the business men are not complaining.

A few days ago we were asked how many Mexican soldiers were yet living in Adair county. We could not name but three—W. C. Turk, John Eohank and William Cabell. There may be others, but we hardly think that there are. The old veterans of 1846 are fast passing away, and in a few more years the question will be how many are yet living in the State. They will be numbered like the revolutionary soldiers, one in Adair, one in Fayette, another one in McCracken, and when you are through counting there will be only six or eight.

The following is the paid list since our last issue: W. P. Ager, James N. Murrell, Geo. Campbell, N. W. Kincaid, Geo. R. Holt, A. B. Smith, S. A. McMahon, B. F. Thompson, Oakley & Sines, M. Blakeman, G. A. Johnston, W. J. Bales, R. L. Morris, K. R. Leachman, P. D. Castrell, S. J. Heizer, W. H. Williams, T. L. Vaughan, J. H. Boyd, R. T. Dwyer, E. T. Blakeman, P. B. Curry, J. J. Russell, J. T. Ray, Robert Squires, W. R. Myers, E. N. Wilson, W. A. Bibb, W. A. Humphress, S. H. Montgomery, A. J. Mack, J. T. Good, B. S. Wilson, J. H. Jimson, D. L. Smith, I. F. Woodruff, W. D. Rucker, G. W. Mank, Albert Edwards, S. G. Banks, Titus Mercer, B. B. Wilson, R. A. Epperson, Walter Caldwell, B. A. Corbin, G. R. Redman, J. H. Judd, J. P. Mr. Mont White, of this place, who was a soldier in the Philippines, has been lying dangerously ill in a hospital at San Francisco, Cal., several weeks. He was taken sick on the Islands and transported to the hospital in San Francisco for better treatment. His parents and sister have been anxiously hoping that he would be well enough to return home, but a cloud came over their pleasant anticipations last Thursday. A dispatch from the surgeon stated that Mont was "leaving ground." The word "leaving" was evidently mistaken in transmitting the message, and was certainly written "losing." In the afternoon Mr. J. V. White, who is the father of the young soldier, left for San Francisco. Two hours later another message came stating that there was but little hope for Mont's recovery. It is hoped that he may take a turn for the better, and will live to reach his home. In the meantime the anxious and distressed family have felt the sympathy of this community.

Senator Hanna as a Marriage Broker

There was a promise made by Senator Mark A. Hanna before the resolution of President McKinley that has never been fulfilled.

"The person to whom the promise was made has never asked for its fulfillment, though the conditions under which it was made have come about, and the witness to the agreement was no less a person than President McKinley."

That Senator Hanna is able to fulfill the promise there is no doubt; for Ohio abounds in rich young men, and the young woman in question has a straight back—for Mr. Thackeray said that any woman with intelligence, who wasn't a hunchback, could marry if she wanted.

The promise was made under happy conditions. It was at Cleveland, O., at the house of President McKinley, when the air was filled with warm autumn sunbeams, and affairs politically were going merrily and well, and the President and Senator Hanna were taking an hour of ease.

A young woman journalist, who represented an Eastern paper, was in Canton telegraphing her daily "story" to her paper. She was leaving that afternoon for the East, and had been sitting with Mr. McKinley, talking over things domestic and playing with the children, who were always hanging around "Auntie Tina," as every Canton child calls the wife of the President.

The President and Senator Hanna walked down to the train with her. The Senator told her that she had no right to be in newspaper work; that Southern girls, above all others, should have a husband and a home.

"Very good," said the young woman. "I agree with you. I have no sentimental view about bettering the world by writing, or new-fangled ideas about a woman having public positions; but I am a wage-earner, as half the Southern girls must be, to help support relatives."

"Well, you ought to be married," insisted the Senator, and the President agreed with him. "I don't like to see women in journalism; I don't like to see them earning a living, if they can help it; I want a place out of public life, and if a woman is clever enough to fill a good position on a big paper, she's far too good for that position, and she should use that cleverness in getting a good, rich husband."

"Suppose she doesn't know any rich man," the newspaper woman suggested.

"Well, I know plenty, and I'll get one," said the Senator. "I'll tell you what we'll do. We three will make a bargain right here. If President McKinley is re-elected I'll get you a rich, single man. The three shook hands and parted."

The President was re-elected, Senator Hanna knows many a rich, single man in Ohio. But the girl remains unmarried.

Harrison's Wealth.

Louisville, March 14.—Public sentiment condemned Gen. Harrison when he married the second time," said a Louisville Judge, who was associated with him in legal cases, "but this would not have been so had the public understood all the circumstances of that marriage. His second marriage was opposed by his two children, Col. Russell B. Harrison and Mrs. Mary Harrison McKee. Feeling that their opposition was in a manner justified Gen. Harrison turned over to them his whole fortune, with the exception of his home in Indianapolis, and said with characteristic firmness: 'I shall now start out alone in life, and whatever I may make shall belong to my wife and the children God may bless me with.'

He turned over to his son and daughter about $100,000 accumulated by the practice of law and saved from his salary as president. Since his second marriage he has accumulated about twice as much, and I am told that his will cuts off his children's first wife with a mere pension, and leaves his second fortune to her. Since this second marriage his son Russell and his daughter have not visited their father's home in Indianapolis.

A Good Cough Medicine for Children.

"I have no hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says F. P. Moran, a well-known and popular doctor, of Petersburg, Va. "We have given it to our children when troubled with bad coughs, whooping cough, and it has always given perfect satisfaction. It was recommended to me by a druggist as the best cough medicine for children as it contained no opium or harmful drugs." Sold by M. C. Gray.

One of the most infamous things that have come to our attention is the case of W. H. Langford, bank president down in Arkansas, who received a letter from some villains notifying him that if he did not put $50,000 in a place named by them before a certain time so they could get it, they would steal his seven-year-old son and burn his eyes out. The gentleman had courage enough to put the matter in the hands of the police and place his son under guard. The black infamy that connected the scheme is the Devil's best effort, and the only punishment adequate to the affair is hanging by the neck until dead—we mean, of course, legal hanging, not lynching.

Some good remedies hide a cough they drag into illness, but the irritation of the lungs to coughs can cause trouble. Morley's Honey Pectoral soothes, heals, strengthens and cures thoroughly. The cough stops because the cause is removed. Price 25c. Ask your druggist.

Great Britain has decided to take steps to force Russia's recent reply to England's inquiry as to the former's intentions has not proven satisfactory to the British Government, and the assistance of the United States has been asked. Secret negotiations are now going on, and the action taken by the United States indicates that it will support the British policy.

A Horrible Outbreak.

"Of late scores on my daughter's head developed into a case of warts," writes C. D. Isbell of Morgan-town, Tenn., but Buckner's Anker-Salve completely cured her. It's a guaranteed cure for Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Sores, Ulcers, etc. Price 25c. at Paul's.

Then comes the question of how the labor for building these roads shall be secured. One of the editors of Southern Industry, a new journal established lately in New Orleans, advocates use of convict labor. It seems reasonable that such labor should be employed in that way rather than in the way that it is competition with honest labor in other lines of industry.

The proper employment of convict labor and the proper development of the penitentiary system of punishment for crime is a large question, and if they can be worked together to give us good roads, it will be a great thing. The Illinois Central is entitled to great credit for helping to put the question to the front.—Louisville Commercial.

It is now time for the stockmen to advertise their stock. In our judgment the newspaper that reaches the people is the very best medium. Bills on the line towards advertising, at they are rarely ever seen but a few miles from home; their purpose in the main is to set forth terms. The News, paid by 5000 people every week, is ready to tell the story. If you have stock, write to us and we will advertise in this paper.

A Kansas woman from Fairview, "the just and steady rain, in which some of the most accomplished young squashers of the city were championed by Mrs. Nation, was a brilliant success. Miss T. Totter flourished a beautiful handpainted bat of the George Washington pattern, and received the prize for smashing the ball.

Arrangements have been made by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad to carry 100 colored families from Nashville and other Tennessee points to Honolulu. Hawaiian capitalists are colonizing the negroes there, and the L. & N. will carry them as far as New Orleans, where they will be transferred to the Southern Pacific and carried to the Western coast. Arrangements have been made for storage with a big steamship line, and the colony will be landed promptly in Honolulu. There will be over 500 people in this party.

The census shows some queer things about Texas. For instance, Bailey county has but four negroes, Cochran has 25, Andrew 37, Lynn, 17, Dawson 36. Twenty-five others have less than 500. Some counties have no running stream within their borders, some are hundreds of miles from a railroad and others are almost wholly inhabited by prairie dogs, jackrabbits and rattlesnakes. Tom Green county, the largest in the State, has $45,000 square miles, which is larger than the whole State of Ohio, and has but 6,904 inhabitants.

Rockford, Ind., visited was last Tuesday, and according to the Rockford Journal, was conveyed by fire.

Good Roads

The good roads movement is one of the most practical that has engaged the interests of our people for a long time. This is and there can be no question about the value of a community of good roads. It is a matter of easy demonstration. It costs the farmer, in time and labor, from one hundred to three hundred per cent more to haul his product to market over poor roads than it does to haul them over good roads.

There have been various efforts in the direction of road improvement. The agricultural department has sent out experts to build sample roads and our Commercial club has interested itself in establishing good roads clubs in various parts of the state, and good has been done in that way. It has been left, however, to the Illinois Central Railway company to initiate the most practical good roads movement, and that has the promise of permanent success. That road proposes to start from New Orleans, about the middle of this month, a train of eight cars, including a commissary coach, flatcars and all the machinery required in the building of modern wagon ways. In advance of it men will be sent out who will work up interest among the farmers about the coming of the train and its purpose. At some twenty points between New Orleans and Chicago, expert men from this train will build about a mile of roadway to show farmers how such roads can be built, the advantage and cost of them.

The Illinois Central is entitled to the nearest thanks and support in this movement. Its experimental road-making train will introduce in the most practical and convincing way the utility and profitableness of good wagon roads.

Then comes the question of how the labor for building these roads shall be secured. One of the editors of Southern Industry, a new journal established lately in New Orleans, advocates use of convict labor. It seems reasonable that such labor should be employed in that way rather than in the way that it is competition with honest labor in other lines of industry.

KEEP YOUR MONEY AT HOME.

This is a free country and a man has a right to buy his goods where he chooses.

The home merchant buys your wheat, your corn, your potatoes, your beef. He pays you for building his house, for improving the streets. He helps you to pay the taxes.

All things being equal, then, you need not spend your money with the home merchants, your neighbor. Why give a foreigner the money which should be kept in circulation at home. Kill your home town and you help to kill yourself. The man who sells you a thing out of a catalogue may be selling you goods cheaper than you can buy them at home, but the chances are that he is not. People are not in the habit of traveling over the country for the benefit of their health.

You know when you come to town and buy an article from your neighbor-merchant, it is not all right, he will make it all right. Suppose it comes to you from a Chicago, or New York, or Philadelphia, who is responsible?

An Honest Medicine for Lagrip.

Geo. W. Wait, of South Gardner, Me., says: "I have had the worst cough, cold, chills and grip and have taken lots of trash of no account but profits to the vendor. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only thing that has done any good whatever. I have used one bottle of it and the chills, cold and grip have left me. I congratulate the manufacturers of an honest medicine. Sold by Cravens."

Hope For Wheat Growers.

The Lexington Gazette does not take much stock in the alleged failure of the wheat crop. It says: "There is much complaint of the poor appearance of wheat, but as a matter of fact it is in very good condition, save where it is infested with the fly. Since the sowing there has not been a single day when it did not fill the drill mark. While the leaves are scored and eaten from the frost and the lack of rain and snow the plants are sound and vigorous in the drill marks but do not show above the surface, and to the casual observer the outlook is unpromising. Just such conditions prevailed in the spring of 1875, and prior to the rains which began on April 15th nearly every farmer was disposed to plow and re-sow better crops. But the development of the plant and fullness of head, and plumpness of grain were unsurpassed."

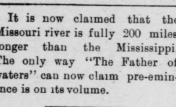

Following is the unique verdict of a jury who held an inquest over the remains of a negro brute who was burned at the stake in Texas a few days ago for brutally outraging and murdering Mrs. Conway Younger, near Corsicana, in that state.

"We find that the deceased came to his just death at the hands of the accused and outraged feelings of the best people in the United States, the citizens of Navarro and adjoining counties. The evidence, as well as the confession of guilt by deceased, show that his punishment was fully merited and commendable."

The sun and stars are God's mighty signs on which he weaves the light and shade we that paint the earth and sky with colors driving it those looms of light for a moment stop; let the flashing shuttles cease to fly, and in stantly this beautiful world of ours, with all its bio-magic and beauty bright, with all its mirth and music, will be laid dead and the cold beam of eternal night. It is with its spirit, its soul and living shuttles forever delivering to the warp and woof of hope and memory the shining threads of human kindness, and weaving them into gossamer webs of love around our hearts and in our homes. Every tender word we speak, every blessing we bestow, is a thread of sunshine woven into somebody's life; all the smiles and sympathies which come to us from other lips and other hearts are threads of light and love woven into our own. But let the loom of love for a moment stop, let its blissful shuttles cease to fly and that moment happiness will be dead on the hearthstone, and laughter and song will perish among the reeds at the door.—Bob Taylor.
